A BOARDMAN KILLED

Miss Lila Boardman, on Sunday last received the sad news that her father, A. Boardman, who was reported wounded in France some time ago, had died of wounds on January 14th. Mr. Boardman left here with the Sportsman's Battalion last year, and saw much active service at the battle front. He was well known to many in Alberta, having been in business in Olds and other towns in Alberta for several years. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, two daughters and one son. His daughters are both school teaching in Alberta, being on the staff of the Lacombe High School, and Miss Edna on the staff of the Vegreville High School. His son Albert is in the employ of the P. Burns, Co., Calgary. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all.

He was confirmed at an early age, and has since been a consistent member of the Lutheran church. He came to America when a young man, and settled in North Dakota, where he resided for fifteen years. In 1887 he married Sophia Anderson to which union two children were born, Ellen Sophia and Hilja Erika. He moved to Oklahoma in 1896, where he resided until coming to Alberta and settling in Lacombe district in 1904.

CHAS. WHITWORTH ELECTED

Chas. Whitworth, councillor elect for Dis. 6, L. 1, D. 409, wishes to thank all those gentlemen and ladies who made it possible for him to head the poll in the election held last Monday, and assures them that he will in every possible way look after the interests of his division to the best of his ability.

Chas. Whitworth represented Division 6 for 11 years, and three years ago resigned, his place being taken by Harry Brownlow, who represented the division for the past three years. At the solicitation of his friends Mr. Whitworth nominated to stand again this year, and was opposed by Mr. Brownlow, whom he defeated by eight votes. The division is fortunate in having men of the stamp of Messrs. Whitworth and Brownlow take an interest in its affairs.

RAINY CREEK NEWS

E. J. Wyatt was elected road councillor for this district for the coming year.

At the annual meetings of the Carrist School held last week J. E. Carrist was elected trustee for the next year. As the law has been amended allowing women to vote on school matters, quite a number of ladies were in attendance.

Miss Grace Thompson entertained a number of the young people at her home Thursday evening of last week. Everyone reported a good time.

Messrs. N. S. Nelson and Geo. Stephenson are attending the U. F. A. Convention at Calgary this week.

A birthday surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. George Stephenson on Friday evening of last week in honor of Walter Stephenson. About 40 were present. The evening was passed in an informal way, and a lunch, such as Mrs. Stephenson knows how to prepare, was served. In the "wanna" hours, the company wended their way homeward, wishing Walter many happy returns of the day.

A deal was made last week whereby the S. M. Burger place has again changed hands. A Mr. House of near Gleichen, Alta., becomes the owner, and will move onto the place in the near future. Messrs. Burger and Surratt, by the deal, each receive some Southern Alberta land, and both parties leave soon to take up residence in that section of the country. The are two of the best families, and Rainy Creek is sorry to lose them but we wish them every success in their new homes.

LOCHINVAR

On Friday the 18th of January there was held in this district a most brilliant assembly.

The occasion was the opening of the New Public Hall.

About 8 o'clock the people began to arrive from all directions and in a short time the hall was filled.

Mr. Ogilvie in a few words wished everyone a good time, declared the hall open and said "everybody waltz."

With Nath Taylor as master of ceremonies and a line up of some of the best fiddlers in this and surrounding districts, one hundred couples, as Harry Landers, did enjoy themselves.

A good supper was provided at midnight and a treat of apples and candy, after which.

"The music loud and louder grew. The dances fast and faster flew."

The people here are justly proud of this new hall and are looking forward to many good times to be held in this community centre.

The credit of erecting this hall which is a two story building 22x44 feet, is due entirely to the efforts of the women of the L. O. B. A. and is under their management.

Special mention should be made of Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. Ogilvie whose untiring efforts contributed largely to the success of the evening.

GET TOGETHER

The sheep men of Canada will have an opportunity in February to put their whole case in regard to wool marketing up to the government and to the textile interests. Representatives of the latter will have a chance to tell the sheep men, all about their end of the misunderstanding which has throttled the industry for many years.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the western wool grower has been squeezed by the threat, tramped on the toes and suffered numerous and varied forms of ill-treatment at the hands of the wool users of eastern Canada. The producers will most certainly oppose any movement that may tend to place them again at the mercy of the buyers from the east, and they will emphatically object to any restrictions that will lower the price they might obtain from free access to the outside markets. But there is a keen desire to sink all personal interest for the sake of a more vigorous prosecution of the war. The scarcity of wool is acute. An accurate idea for the necessity for conservation and increased production may be gained from the advertisement of a well known clothing manufacturer in the United States, which says: "No civilian need be ashamed of shabby clothes—save the wool for the soldiers."

Alberta sheepmen do not care whether they sell their wool in the United States or in Timbuctoo. But they do want fair value for it and they insist that it play its part in helping to win the war. They will do anything in the world to co-operate with the textile interests, except to give their wool away for someone else to make excess profits on, and they will place their case before the government officials at Toronto next month with this sentiment uppermost in their minds. It is to be hoped that the manufacturers come to the conference in the same mood. This is no time to squabble over insignificant differences. It is a time to get together and talk it over. The sheep industry in Canada is a young and tender one, and needs a lot of nursing if it is going to develop into a healthy, vigorous grow-up. The textile industry of eastern Canada has had its troubles. Each can help the other in a great many ways, and mutual understanding will go a long way toward solving present difficulties. A set price of wool seems almost inevitable, and if such procedure is necessary in order that the best use may be made of the product, then the producers and the consumers of that commodity can make far better progress and understand each other much better if they bury the hatchet and co-operate for the good of all concerned.

GERMANY'S WAR MACHINE

In moments of discouragement we sometimes regard the German war machine as a model of efficiency, working without hitches of any sort. It wheels seem to revolve with the utmost smoothness with never a wobble. But the Germans being human, the chances are that they have their troubles.

They had the advantage of considerable preliminary practice. They had tested their machine out over and over again. They tested it for speed, for endurance, for control, and they never for a moment quit tinkering with it to make it better in some respect. So it is not surprising if it gave an exhibition of efficiency when the power was turned on.

We are struck with amazement at its early efficient performance, the rapid mobilization of troops (although we think the Germans cheated a little and began it before they said they did), the completeness of their equipment and the dash at Paris, that we have been inclined to take for granted that it has been working with the same efficiency ever since and without an overhauling. But there is plenty of evidence that this is not the case. The Germans began having their troubles right from the start. Some of them we have learned about, and it would be fair to conclude that there have been others, the results of which have not been so apparent.

We think we know for one thing that the German efficiency sharpens greatly underestimated the duration of the war and its requirements in all manner of material. We saw von Moltke retired almost at the beginning. Falkenhayn, his successor at staff headquarters, was removed to make way for von Hindenburg. We don't know whether there was any investigation following the failure of the Verdun offensive or not, but if there was, some interesting things must have come out. We know what came out at the Dardanelles investigation and were depressed enough. But we don't know how the Germans felt about the Verdun slaughter and failure.

We know too that Kluck failed, if we don't know why. We know that his failure kept the Kaiser out of Paris. We know the machine failed to gain the vitally important channel ports. We know that in the internal administration and in foreign affairs—both parts of the war machine—something went wrong. Two rapid shifts in the Chancellorship had to be made. Foreign secretary followed foreign secretary. Von Tiritz had to retire from the admiralty and his successor had to report a mutiny in the fleet. We do not know what was behind these and other changes, but we suspect it was trouble of some sort—things not going as well as they were expected to.

If we knew the details of Germany's troubles we should see that it is by no means a nation of supermen that we have to deal with. But incidentally it is a nation that has no sentiment—except toward royalty—that will interfere with changing an official as soon as it becomes apparent that he isn't up to his job. It is the general information that Germany doesn't keep men in office after they have shown that they can't make good.

CALLING UP CLASS B

The statement from Ottawa that the draft from Class A will not bring 60,000 men is scarcely borne out by the detailed figures of registration and exemption.

According to these figures the total registration is 404,395. From this must be deducted the exemption claims allowed, 278,779, and those not dealt with, 53,778, a total of 332,557, which would leave a total of 71,838 available for Service in Class A.

In addition, it must be remembered that the figure given for exemption claims allowed includes all the temporary exemptions which are expiring daily and will continue to swell the numbers available in increasing ratio.

THE TONIC THAT BRINGS HEALTH

"Fruit-a-lives" Builds Up The Whole System

Those who take "Fruit-a-lives" for the first time, are often astonished at the way it builds them up and makes them feel better all over. They may be taking "Fruit-a-lives" for some specific disease, as Constipation, Indigestion, Chronic Headaches or Neuralgia, Kidney or Bladder Trouble, Rheumatism or Pain in the Back. And they find when "Fruit-a-lives" has cured the disease, that they feel better and stronger in every way. This is due to the wonderful tonic properties of these famous tablets, made from fruit juices. Box, a box, 5 for $2.50, total sale, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

tion for the next few months.

The appeals against tribunals decisions are stated to be 90 p.c. made by the military authorities, so that any change in the figures from these will add to, rather than diminish, the number of men available.

If there are nearly 12,000 men who have failed to report, as the statement from Ottawa seems to indicate, this should not be a reason for a call being made for class B. But it should emphatically be a reason for straining every effort to hunt down the men of Class A who have failed to do their duty.

Not until this is done thoroughly, will the government have any warrant for calling upon Class B men to fill the remaining gaps.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness, while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

PEACE FORCES IN GERMANY ARE GROWING STRONG

London, Jan. 16.—No authoritative information has reached London on the result of political struggle in Berlin, but it is confirmed that Chancellor von Hertling's speech before the main committee of the reichstag has been postponed for a few days.

According to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam the crisis continues to rage around the fixing of Germany's attitude in the new phase of the Brest-Litovsk negotiations.

The correspondent in Berlin of the Koelnische Volks Zeitung believes that a satisfactory compromise will be reached and that it will avert any political or military changes.

Pan-German newspapers attack Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann violently. The Reinsche Westfalsche Zeitung remarks ironically "Von Kuehlmann would win the prize for showing how a brilliant military question may be utterly ruined. The question is whether the struggle at Brest-Litovsk will be a victory for Germany or for the clever advocate Trotsky, who fully reveals his intellectual superiority over the representatives of the central powers. Gen. von Hoffman alone saved the situation but it can only be saved permanently if he is supported from Berlin."

Count Reventlow in the Tages Zeitung admits the strength of the peace movement and says it would inevitably ruin Germany's future. He declares it is no secret that the entire body of Social Democrats, with a considerable proportion of Liberal and centre parties and still more considerable part of German diplomacy hold the view that the submarine war cannot accomplish its aim and can only delay peace. He adds that the so called majority are exerting every effort to force from the leaders of the empire a fresh German peace offer as a reply to the speeches of President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George.

JAPAN PLANS TO BUILD 250 SHIPS EVERY 12 MONTHS

Ottawa Jan. 15.—E. F. Crowe Canadian trade commissioner at Yokohama, in a report to the department of trade and commerce states that Japan is launching upon a shipbuilding campaign which will involve the construction of 250 ships per annum. He states that at the end of September there were 113 shipbuilding ships owned by 42 firms. In each ship a ship of 1000 tons can be built. This is more than 3 times the number of ships Japan owned before the war.

Many more are also building and 24 are expected to be completed before the end of the war. When all these berths are put in to full operation, subject to a supply of steel and iron materials, Japan will be able to build more than 250 ships aggregating 1,000,000 tons yearly. This is more than three times over Canada's maximum shipbuilding proposals, as recently announced.

GERMANS WILL HAVE DUAL PEACE POLICY

London, Jan. 16.—German newspapers, as quoted in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam, says that as a result of conferences, an understanding has been reached by the political and military parties in Germany, in order to avoid further friction. The Lokal Anzeiger, of Berlin says the basis of agreement is that Chancellor von Hertling's viewpoint in regard to the eastern questions (acquiescence in the Russian program of no annexations or indemnities and the right of self-determination) is to prevail, whereas Field Marshal von Hindenburg will have full liberty in the west, in case of a German Victory, to deal with any possible annexations there.

60,000 EMPLOYEES OF GOVERNMENT AFFECTED

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—It became known Saturday night, says the Citizen, that the civil service commission has about completed its report on conditions in the service, as requested by the government, and is recommending that the entire outside services be placed under its jurisdiction. About 60,000 government employees throughout the country, are affected, it is stated.

THE KAISER'S TO BLAME

My Tuesdays are meatless,
My Wednesdays are wheatless,
I am getting more catless each day

My home it is heatless,
My bed it is sheetless,
They're all sent to the Y.M.C.A.
The bar rooms are treatless,
My coffee is sweetless,
Each day I grow poorer and wiser
My stockings are feetless,
My trousers are seatless,
My! How I do hate the Kaiser.

THE INTEGRITY OF TREATIES

Mr. Lloyd George in addressing the British trade unions the other day declared that the Allied democracies had for one of their chief purposes in fighting for victory in the present war the re-establishment of the sanctity of treaties. This is, of course an indispensable task. Germany under the present ruler has shown itself not only oblivious to but contemptuous of its solemn treaty obligations. It is necessary therefore, to ask for whom the representatives of Germany speak, the militaristic minority of the great mass of German people, when they speak of peace. On August 4, 1914, the Imperial German chancellor, Bethmann-Hollweg, addressed the Reichstag for the first time since the war began, said: "Our troops have occupied Luxembourg and perhaps have also found it necessary to enter Belgian territory. This is contrary to international law." He said further: "We shall try to make good the injustice we have committed as soon as our military goal has been reached."

On that same fateful day, according to a letter addressed to the British foreign secretary, and written four days later by the British Ambassador to Berlin, Sir Edward Goschen, the letter called on the Imperial Chancellor to tell him that Great Britain would fight in defence of Belgian neutrality. The Chancellor replied that the step that was taken by the British government "was terrible to a degree; just for a word—"Neutrality," a word which in war time has so often been disregarded—just for a scrap of paper, Great Britain was going to make war on a kindred nation." Sir Edward explained that Great Britain was in honor bound to "keep her solemn engagement to do her utmost to defend Belgium's neutrality." The Chancellor exclaimed, "But at what price will that compact have been kept? Has the British government thought of that? Sir Edward says: I hinted to his excellency as plainly as I could that fear of consequences could hardly be regarded as an excuse for breaking solemn engagements."

Such is the record which condemns the irresponsible Kaiser and his obsequious ministers. They have no standing before the bar of international justice. Whether they respect treaties or not is purely a question of convenience as they have confessed. How shall the war be ended by any treaty made merely with Germany's autocrat, and his remorseless militaristic advisers? Truly it is necessary to re-establish the integrity of treaties in order that there may be peace.

WHAT FRENCH WOMEN PAY

WOMEN IN WAR WORK

In Canada the phrase conjures up pleasant pictures of cheerful, white uniformed women rolling endless miles of surgical dressings at Red Cross headquarters, of millions of women, young and old, knitting, knitting on warm garments for the men in trench and camp, knitting beside the open fires of home, in the intervals of concerts, between the acts of plays knitting always and everywhere, the somber yarn drawn from silk-bags of every hue and lovely richness, of other women training for serious nursing or vague "emergency work" of millions of comfortable women "doing war work" by giving an afternoon a week to Red Cross activities and religiously observing wheatless and meatless days.

Women in war work!

Women of France do their work like the men of France with blood and tears, casting their souls and bodies into the fight to save their country.

"One munitions factory in France," says a writer in Every-Week, "turns out the enormous amount of 1,000 tons of ammunition every day. Six thousand women are employed in this plant."

Among these women thirty babies are born each month and cared for in the hospital and nursery attached to the factory.

Only the fewest days necessary and the new mothers leave their babies and go back to their shell-making to handling the white metal and high explosives ten hours each day!

The babies never leave the nursery. Last July there were 200 there. For the youngest the mothers are allowed 10 minute nursing period every 3 hours—and the tiny victims of war times drink in deadly fatigue, fear, despondency and and fearful nerve tension with their mother's milk.

These women war workers wear no uniform. They are clad in the ragged black of mourning for their men who have already impeded the rush of the lun with their warm living and loving bodies, or clad in coarse unbleached cotton dresses and their faces are tired and haggard.

May the women of Canada be saved from paying the price that the women of France pay for the war.

KILLED IN ACTION

Lee Corporal Ernest Henry Aldwinckle of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, previously reported wounded, now killed in action on October 30th, 1917, aged 30 years, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Aldwinckle, of 54 Highbury Park, London, England. He was born in 1887, and came to Canada in 1906. Entering the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph in 1917.

He was a keen sportsman, and the same year won first in the cross country run, and in 1908, won first in the light weight boxing contest. He came to Alberta in 1917, and settled on a farm 7½ miles north of Lacombe. On June 28th, 1915, he was united in marriage to Anna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Coverdale, of Lacombe, and to this union was born one child, Margaret Elizabeth.

On October 24th, 1916, he enlisted with the 6th University Company, reinforcing the Princess Patricia's, stationed at McGill University, Montreal. He was sent to the divisional School of Bayonet Fighting and Physical Training at Montreal, and from there to the Headquarters School at Toronto, obtaining excellent certificates from both. He was offered a position as Instructor before leaving Canada, but refused and left Halifax, March 30th, 1917. He was stationed for a time in England, and on May 30th left with a draft for France, reverting to the ranks to do so. He is the second of the family to lay down his life for his country. His brother Lieut. Ralph Aldwinckle was killed in action on Nov. 15th 1916.

An officer in writing of Lance Corporal Aldwinckle, says: He was always cheery and ready for anything. I always knew anything I had for him to do would be done, well beyond expectation. In France he made good in this stern game, and in spite of his short time in France was soon made a non-commissioned officer. In him our regiment has lost a splendid and most promising soldier. I a friend, whom I most sincerely admired. The battalion has lost many splendid men who have striven and died to win the good name this unit bears, and by no means least among them is Lance Corporal Aldwinckle.

He died the noblest death a man can die. For good and right, and liberty. And such a death is immortal.

ONE MAN'S HONOR

Behind the announcement that the king has Granted a free pardon to Lieut. Cecil Aymer Cameron, formerly a Lieut. in the Royal Field artillery, and now of the Royal Engineers, there is an absorbing interesting story. The pardon is the King's reward for services rendered in the war. Since August 1914, Lieut. Cameron had been employed on very important work, for which his knowledge of European languages particularly fitted him.

The famous necklace case at Edinburgh in 1911 resulted in both Lieut. Cameron and his wife being sentenced to two years penal servitude. Lieut. Cameron served two years of his sentence, but after being in prison a few months his wife was released owing to serious illness. Mrs. Cameron complained to her husband that she had been robbed in a street of a valuable pearl necklace which her husband believed to be in her possession. Believing her story, he attempted to recover the value, $5,500, from a firm of insurance brokers. It was only after their arrest that Lieut. Cameron learned that there had been no robbery, and the claim which he had been led to make was a bogus one. During the five days trial Lieut. Cameron refused to give evidence on his own behalf, although he could have proved his innocence without difficulty. But it was impossible for him to go into the witness box to state his own case without injuring his wife, and he preferred to sacrifice himself rather than prejudice her.

When Mrs. Cameron was released four months after the sentence she made a full confession which declared her husband to be entirely innocent. Lieut. Cameron still remained silent, and served his sentence without complaint or protest.

In June 1914, a petition to the King, signed by over 1,000 officers, including 26 artillery colonels, a number of peers, among them Lord Cromer, and Roberts, and many other influential people, was ready for presentation. It would have undoubtedly led government to take steps to re-establish the chivalrous husband's good name.

Then the war came, Lieut. Cameron was not anxious about himself so much as about the honor of his family. His father was a V.C. and his grandfather was wounded at Waterloo. Within a few days of the outbreak of war Lord Kitchener gave him an opportunity to rejoin the army, appointing him to an important staff post. Since then he has worked hard in France and elsewhere. The French government has already honored him for his services.

Childrens Glasses

If your child complains of a headache or painful vision, now is the time to have its eyes examined.

We make a specialty of fitting Children's glasses, and use the utmost care in each case.

In the critical period of school life, many children suffer from eye defects, which a little care and attention would easily remove.

Chiropractic

The Leading Drugless Health Science

that goes directly to the cause of the majority of so-called diseases is the reason of Chiropractic efficiency as a drugless health agent; that is why adjustments benefit you when all "treatment methods" have failed. Disease is a medical term. It is a misnomer. All so-called "disease" is but bodily incoordination. The "diseases" here named are called to educate the reader by contrast to proper terminology.

Slight subluxations at this point will cause so-called headaches, eye diseases, deafness, epilepsy, vertigo, insomnia, wry neck facial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, etc.

A slight subluxation of a vertebra in this part of the spine is the cause of so-called throat trouble, neuralgia, pain in the shoulders and arms, goitre, nervous prostration, la grippe, dizziness, bleeding from the nose, disorder of gums, catarrh, etc.

The arrow head marked No. 3 locates the part on the spine wherein subluxations will cause so-called bronchitis, felons, pains between the shoulder blades, rheumatism of the arms and shoulders, hay fever, writers cramp etc.

A vertebral subluxation at this point causes so-called nervousness, heart disease, asthma, pneumonia, tuberculosis, difficult breathing, other lung troubles, etc.

Stomach and liver trouble, enlargement of the spleen, pleurisy and a score of other troubles so-called, are caused by subluxa-tions to this part of the spine, sometimes so light as to remain unnoticed by others except the trained Chiropractor.

Here we find the cause of so-called gall stones, dyspepsia of upper bowels, fevers, shingles, hiccup, worms, etc.

Bright's disease, diabetes, floating kidney, skin disease, boils eruptions and other diseases so-called, are caused by nerves being pinched in the spinal openings at this point.

Regulations of such trouble are so-called appendicitis, peronitis, lumbago, etc., follows Chiropractic adjustments at this point.

Why have so-called constipation, rectal troubles, sciatica, etc.
 when Chiropractic adjustments at this point of the spine will remove the cause.

A slight slippage of one or both innominate bones will likewise produce so-called sciatica, together with many "diseases" of the pelvis or lower extremities.

The Chiropractors assume that in consequence of mal-positioned vertebral segments, the openings between the vertebrae through which the spinal nerves pass are effected, that in this way the nerves are impinged; and that such compression is the cause of the majority of all diseases. This condition is called "Subluxation" of the vertebral unit, which means that the articular surfaces of these bony units are more or less out of alignment. To re-align these bones the Chiropractor uses nothing but his bare hands to deliver a particular thrust, thus releasing the pressure of harder substances from the nerve trunks to restore normal nerve function.
